

STATE OF THE UPPER MERRIMACK 1995-1997

a river quality report

Stephen C. Landry
Michele L. Tremblay
principal authors

Upper Merrimack Monitoring Program

a citizen watershed monitoring program

STATE OF THE UPPER MERRIMACK 1995-1997

a river quality report

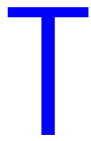

Stephen C. Landry
Michele L. Tremblay
principal authors

Upper Merrimack Monitoring Program

a citizen watershed monitoring program

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

he work of the Upper Merrimack Monitoring Program would not be possible without its volunteers and partners (all individuals and organizations listed in appendices).

We would like to acknowledge the following people with our deepest gratitude,

- ✧ Tom Bugely for tireless assistance in coordinating sample collection and delivery in addition to monitoring two of his own sites, and his tireless faith in and promotion of the UMMP;
- ✧ Geoff Dates for his invaluable scientific guidance, substantive assistance, insight, and for making it all interesting and fun with great patience and tireless good humor;
- ✧ Franklin Waste Water Treatment Facility staff for analyzing at no charge all of the UMMP's bacteria samples and monitoring two sites;
- ✧ Alicia Lehrer for a rare combination of patience, enthusiasm, and encouragement blended with a sense of humor;
- ✧ Ken Noyes for uncommon dedication and bravery in the face of high water and treacherous rapids;
- ✧ Jim MacCartney for his thoughtful insight, valuable assistance, difficult field work (even in the rain), and bottomless well of encouragement;
- ✧ The faculties of Franklin High School and Saint Paul's School for generously and graciously hosting "Bug Nights" workshops; and
- ✧ The many volunteers who have given their time unselfishly and enthusiastically to make the Upper Merrimack Monitoring Program interesting, fun, and a success.

This report was made possible in part by a grant from the NH Department of Environmental Services, Adopt-a-River Site Sponsors, and the conservation commissions of the Towns of Boscawen, Bow, Canterbury, and Northfield, and the Cities of Concord and Franklin.

UPPER MERRIMACK MONITORING PROGRAM

Michele L. Tremblay, Program Director

Stephen C. Landry, Sampling Supervisor

PO Box 3019 ~ Boscawen NH 03303

(603) 796-2615 ~ 796-2600 fax

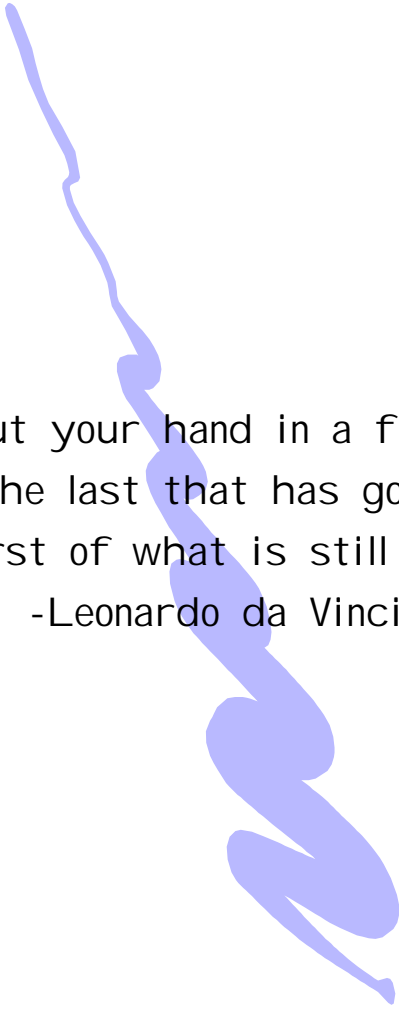

<http://www.des.state.nh.us/rivers/upperme1.htm>

mtrembla@tds.net

Published April 2000

Designed by Michele L. Tremblay

Unless otherwise noted, all quotations from The River, by Henry David Thoreau

When you put your hand in a flowing stream, you touch the last that has gone before and the first of what is still to come.

-Leonardo da Vinci

